A reflection from Legacy Teacher Cindy McLaughlin

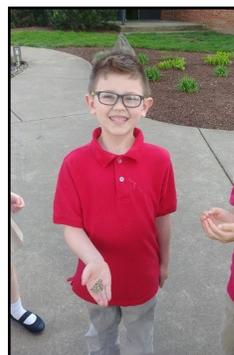

"Years ago, when we were parenting our 3 young children, I thought we could give our children all they needed so they would know and love God and lead a holy life. What I didn't anticipate was the attraction that the values of the world would have on our children as they grew older, the values we didn't want our children to embrace. Our children needed another voice, one that echoed what we were trying to teach the kids. That's where Norwalk Catholic School helped us. Because of the generosity of those who came before us, this alternative was available for our family. The legacy of Catholic Education in Norwalk helped us teach our children that one does not have to separate God from other aspects of life. They learned that God is the giver of all we have and all we are."
